

2006 WILLAMETTE VALLEY PINOT NOIR

Tasting Notes:

This wine is a favorite amongst our customers year in and year out. Every year the Willamette Valley Pinot Noir is a barrel selection of our best vineyard sites, where we are looking for a fruit-driven and youthful Pinot Noir to be enjoyed young while our reserve wines age in the cellar. The 2006 vintage was a great year to craft this kind of wine.

Ripe and opulent, the 2006 Willamette Valley Pinot Noir has a lush aromatic profile of dark fruits, plums and spice as well as a kiss of toasty French Oak. This wine comes from the Bishop Creek, Palmer Creek, Pelos-Sandberg, Anderson and Cherry Grove Vineyards and was aged for 7 months in French Oak (40% new) before being bottled in early May of 2007. This wine has a juicy succulent core of fruit which represents the appeal of the 2006 vintage and should be drunk over the next three to five years.
