

2007 Jamsheed Pinot Noir
Momtazi Vineyard, McMinnville A.V.A.

THE STORY OF JAMSHEED ("JAM-SHEED")

According to ancient Persian legend, King Jamsheed was able to observe his entire realm by peering into his full wine goblet. We thought this a fitting name for a wine that blends grapes from every block of our vineyard. Sourced from Dijon and Pommard vines planted on a variety of soil types and at different elevations, Jamsheed is a glimpse into our "realm."

TASTING NOTES

The 2007 Jamsheed displays a ruby garnet color. The bouquet showcases fresh raspberries, with tints of pomegranate, bitter sweet cocoa and smoky aromatics. The palate is greeted with soft rounding tannins in the mouth as well as red cherries that linger with a white pepper spice at the finish.

WINEMAKER'S COMMENTS & FRUIT SOURCE

The 2007 Jamsheed Pinot Noir is a Demeter Certified Biodynamic® wine. The fruit for this year's Jamsheed was harvested September 28 through October 15, 2007 and represents a colonial blend of the entire Momtazi Estate Vineyard. Following harvest 100% of the fruit was de-stemmed and cold soaked for several days prior to primary fermentation. Fermentation was completed with indigenous yeast from each individual block on the Momtazi Estate. There is 14% new French oak in the 2007 Jamsheed and was racked off its lees twice and filtered prior to bottling.
